Profile

A passionate front-end web developer specializing in React.js, with strong UI/UX design skills, eager to contribute creativity and technical expertise to deliver dynamic, user-friendly web applications. Proficient in building responsive, scalable interfaces with modern JavaScript, React Hooks, and state management tools like Redux. Experienced in collaborating with cross-functional teams, implementing RESTful APIs, and optimizing web performance. I am keen to apply my skills in a fast-paced, dynamic work environment while continuously learning and growing professionally to stay at the forefront of technology trends.
